

Cadillac Products Packaging Company Engineered Solutions

A Honored Tradition in Packaging Excellence.

It's one thing to be recognized for technical innovation and packaging excellence by your peers. It's another to be recognized for outstanding achievement, service and R&D contributions by your customers. At Cadillac Products Packaging Company we're very proud to have been recognized by both.

The American Institute of Baking (AIB) recent audit of our facility produced a "superior" rating for the third year in a row. AIB's audit has once again confirmed our commitment to our customers and our dedication to outstanding packaging quality and safety.

Dairy processors of Grade-A milk products are required to purchase milk containers, closures and other types of packaging materials from manufacturers who are certified as meeting the FDA Single-Service Packaging Standards. The FDA Standards are considered to be the most comprehensive standards in the world, pertaining to the hygienic manufacture of food packaging materials. Cadillac Products Packaging Company has again been certified as compliant with these standards.

Since 1942 we have been committed to staying in the forefront of quality, service and innovation. Our success and prosperity is dependent upon our customer's success. If along the way we're honored for outstanding products and services that's a bonus. In the end, our ultimate rewards are the trust and loyalty shown by our customers.
